8.	Shri. Govind Das, Senior Advocate	8. Shri. V. M Chitale, Deputy Secretary Irrigation
9.	Shri. M. Lath, Ex-cutive Engineer	9. Shri. H. V. Mahajani, Superintending Engineer

The Discussions related to the use of water of the Godavari basin and the clearance of projects of Madhya Pradesh and Orissa.

After full discussions, the following agreement was arrived at:-

(i) Pendind final allocation of the Godavari water, Mdhya Pradesh and Orissa will be free to use additional gross quantity of 300 TMC and 200 TMC respectively, out of the water of the Godavari basin below Pochampad Dam site for new projects in such manner as they deemfit.

(ii) In agreeing to 200 TMC referred to in Clause I for Orissa, Madhya Pradesh on its part has taken into account the estimated requirements within the basin only. All the utilization by Orissa and Madhy Pradesh contemplated in the various clauses shall be only as a part of the 200 TMC and 300 TMC respectively agreed to in Clause I above. The States of Orissa and Madhya Pradesh will not be entitled on the basis of the subsequent Clauses to utilize in any way more than 200 TMC and 300 TMC respectively.

(iii) Below the dam sites of the Upper Indravati Project, as proposed by Orissa, there is acatchment area of about 1,855 Sq miles in the Indravati Sub-basin upto Orissa border with Madhya Pradesh. From this catchment there is some natural flow across the Jaura Nallah to Sabari (Kolab) river. It was agreed that Orrissa will ensure at its border with Madhya Pradesh a flow of 45 TMC in the Indravati and its tributaries at 75 per cent dependability for use by Madhya Pradesh. In the years of shortage, the shortage will be shared proportionately between the two States and the assurance of flow in the Indravati and its tributaries, referred to above, will stand proportionately reduced. Both the States agree to joint gauging at suitable points to ascertain the yield data and to ensure the flow of 45 TMC at 75 per Cent dependability or the proportionately reduced flow in years shortage that has to flow below the common border. The figure of 45 TMC is on the assumption of total yield of 204 TMC from the Indravati sub-basin in Orissa and 91 TMC utilization for the Upper Indravati Project. If the assessment of 204 TMC is found to be high and the correct figure is lower than 204 TMC and the utilization for the Upper Indravti Project gets reduced from the figure of 91 TMC then the figure of 45 TMC will get reduced in the same proportaion as the reduction in the figure of 91 TMC.

(iv) In view of the agreement incorporated in the above clauses, Madhya Pradesh agrees to the clearance and execution of Upper Intravati Project, as proposed and submitted by Orissa to the Government of India. Orissa also agrees to the clearance and execution of Bodhghat Project, as may be modified by Mandya Pradesh taking into account the water availability specified in Clause III.

(v) It is agreed that Mdhya Pradesh and Orissa will consider the feasibility of taking up joint projects in the sabari Sub-basin from the point Sabari (Kolab) river forms the common boundary between both the States upto the point where it joins the Sileru river, on the basis of common agreements to be drawn up a apropriate time. The hydel power and the cost debitable to generation of such power will be shared equally between the two States in these projects. The costs on benefits of irrigation, if any from these projects will also be equitably shared among both the States. Orissa will be free to make beneficial use of the water of this river above the common boundary point and lying in its territory in such manner as it deems fit.

(vi) Notwithstanding the agreement on the joint projects on the river Sahari (Kolab) mentioned in Clause V, if there is any submersion of land and properties of either State by other Projects sponsored to the other State or any other State in the Godavari basin, the question of submersion and the problems connected these with will have to be mutual settled before execution of such projects.

(vii) Madhya Pradesh and Orissa agree that nothing in this agreement will be treated is a concession by either State in respect to any of their concern in any other water dispute with any other State or with respect of the dispute regarding the sharing of the balance of water in Godavariand its tributaries.

(viii) Madhya Pradesh and Orissa agree that this agreement will be furnished to the Government of India and they would be requested to expedite the clearance of the new projects. This agreement will also be jointly field before the Godavari Water Disputes Tribunal at the appropriate time.
